TWO BURGLARS CAUGHT.

Chief Scott Takes a Hand and Lands Them Today.

The house of Mr. L. A. Atkinson, corner of Gorrell and King streets, was broken into last night and several articles stolen therefrom. Mrs. Atkinson was away from home and as Mr. Atkinson, who is an engineer and runs the train which leaves here at 11:45 for Norfolk, was out on his run, there was no one in the house and it was an easy mark, though almost under an electric light. Entrance was effected through a back window. A sash in the blind was cut so it could be unhooked and opened and the window lights smashed. Mr. Atkinson returned on the early train from the east, and on going up to his residence found everything in a state of confusion; but, strange, only a few articles were missing, viz., a pistol, guitar, bundle of laundry, hairbrush, and possibly some other small items. Mr. Atkinson had left $25 in bills scattered in the house, which the burglars failed to find. Mr. Atkinson at once reported the matter to Chief Scott and in less than two hours he had Bill Evans and Jim James behind the bars, with evidence sufficient to convict them.

Evans had a shirt taken from the package of laundry and was carrying the guitar in his hand when Mr. Scott saw him up on East Market street. He and James were together and James had the pistol and hairbrush. Evans is an escaped convict from Rowan county and is wanted there.

It has later developed that the man Evans has been guilty of other thieving in this city. A key of wire was this afternoon found by Chief Scott, supposed to have been stolen from the Southern Railway by Evans.

NEURO GRABBED THE PILE.

Showman Was Paying Some Money and It Disappeared.

There were tricks, numerous and rascally, connected with the show yesterday. For instance, in the afternoon a fellow was standing on a box holding an innocent-looking goat and loudly announcing that in a tent just outside the big show in a few minutes the aforesaid goat would be fed alive to a monster snake. Tickets only 10 cents to see the huge reptile coil himself around the goat, hear the pitiful groans and cries, and then see his snakyship swallow his meal. Many people bit, but the goat is yet alive. One gentleman complained of it, but the showman only remarked that the program had been changed.

Last night many people stayed for the concert to see the strong-haired lady slide from one end of the big tent to the other on a wire, suspended entirely by her hair. And they were likewise disappointed, as the thrilling episode was not put on, nor was there anything like it.

But one showman was picked up. It was mean, of course, but it showed that the rascality was not all one way. Some one connected with the show was about paying W. F. Clegg, of this city, a bill and had laid down thirty dollars, when a negro standing near grabbed the pile and ran. Not pursued, he made his way with the money was a runner and left his pursuers way behind. The showman had to shell out again and pay Mr. Clegg. The negro was a stranger to those who saw him and the police have no clue.

On the fourth Sunday at the morning service communion will be observed, after which the meetings will begin.

Died of Lockjaw.

Martin O'Connor, the boy who fell out of a two-story window at the Catholic College at Belmont, and who had lock jaw as the result of his injuries, as noted in yesterday's Observer, died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. His sufferings were intense from the moment he was stricken with the fatal disease, and death was to him a relief. The young man passed through here a week ago with Mr. A. Irwin, who is studying for the priesthood, going to the college. His home was in Portsmouth, Va. He and a number of other boys from there had entered St. Mary's College for the winter. Mrs. O'Connor, the boy's mother, was wired for after his accident, and was with him when he died. His father died two months ago.—Charlotte Observer.

GREAT BRITAIN'S REPLY

Causes Intense Irritation in the Transvaal.

WAR IS NOW INEVITABLE.

This Conviction General at Pretoria. Orange Free State Burglars Offer Their Help.

By Cable to the Telegram

London, Sept. 14.—The war scare is increasing. There is great activity in various recruiting centres, which are crowded daily.

THE TRANSVAAL REPLY.

London, Sept. 14.—The Transvaal's reply has been received but not made public. The Morning Post's second edition says the reply is truculent, loquacious and of a blasphemous nature.

It was communicated to Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, who immediately summoned Sir George Stewart White, the prospective commander of the British forces at Natal.

WAR INEVITABLE.

Manchester, Sept. 14.—The Guardian, the leading anti-Jingo paper outside of London, today prints a dispatch from Pretoria, saying that Great Britain's reply has caused intense irritation there and that the conviction is general that war is now inevitable. The dispatch adds that war preparations are almost feverish.

ANXIETY AT LONDON.

London, Sept. 14.—The alarming dispatch of the Manchester Guardian, reprinted here, has caused much anxiety. The Guardian is considered one of the most reliable papers in the country and by no means an alarmist organ.

AN ALLIANCE.

Bloomington, Sept. 14.—Members of the read of the Orange Free State have been notified by the Brier road to attend at a moment's notice the session of the latter body. The Orange Free State burglers met yesterday and resolved to stand with the Transvaal in case of hostilities.

AN INHUMAN BRUTE.

Ell Shaw Confesses the Murder of His Mother and Grandmother.

By Wire to the Telegram

Philadelphia, Sept. 14.—Ell Shaw, who was twice tried for murder at Camden, confessed yesterday that he killed his mother and grandmother. The Times worked up the case. Shaw had talked to a confidential friend named Darnell, and when confronted with this statement said that he did kill his mother and grandmother, but that nothing could be done with him, as he had been tried and acquitted.

SHAW'S ACCOMPLICE ARRESTED.
Camden, Sept. 14.—Eugene Darnell was arrested this morning as the accomplice of Ell Shaw in the murder of Shaw's mother and grandmother. Shaw told of the tragedy when Darnell fled from the house. Shaw then fled the alarm. Darnell later told him. Shaw, confronted with Darnell's statement, confessed to the murders.

LATER—SHAW DENIES.

Camden, Sept. 14.—Shaw denies that he confessed to the murder of his mother and grandmother and threatens to sue the Philadelphia Times for libel.

COMMITTED TO JAIL.

Hudson Now Wants to Turn State's Evidence.

Special to the Telegram

Winston-Salem, Sept. 14.—The remains of Frank Miller, who died in Indianapolis, arrived last night, accompanied by the widow and sister of the deceased. The funeral service was held today at 11 o'clock in the Moravian Home church and interment made in the Salem cemetery. Mr. Miller's untimely death was caused by five heavy doors falling on him. He lived an hour and a half after the accident.

The preliminary trial of Tom Reed, Bob Cobler and Tom Hudson yesterday afternoon, for the murder of Mr. D. Binkley, resulted in committing them all to jail without bail. Hudson is making an effort to secure a release by turning state's evidence. It is thought that this will not be permitted as there seems to be pretty strong evidence without him.

It developed that the murdered man had about $40 in his pockets before the murder, and that when found his pockets were empty. Robbery, therefore, seems to have been the incentive to the crime. It is an ugly case.

Later—Mr. R. E. Carmichael, of the Daily Sentinel, has just interviewed Hudson, and he says that Reed fired both shots on the night of the murder. The first shot, he says, was about an hour before the fatal shot and was fired in the air. They were all drinking, and Reed and Binkley got into a difficulty, that Binkley threw his hand to his hip pocket, as if to draw a weapon, and Reed shot him and he fell. Hudson says he then left him without waiting to see how bad he was hurt. There was no weapon, other than a pocket knife found on Mr. Binkley's person.

Hudson has seen Solicitor Griffith, of the criminal court, with reference to turning state's evidence.

A. and M. College Pranks.

Some of the old students at the Agricultural and Mechanical College played a practical joke on sixty of the freshmen last Sunday by telling them they were under orders to go to the Baptist Tabernacle to attend the morning service. Four students, in uniform and with arms, appeared and escorted the sixty victims to the church. At the capitol square three of the escort "fell off," saying they had to go on guard duty there, but one went on with the freshmen and quite a stir was created as they marched into the church. The solitary escort departed and the freshmen were left to get back unprotected. They told the president that they did not like their escorts thus leaving them.

IN THE OLD PALMETTO STATE

Politics Dull, the People Interested in the Philippine Situation.

THE TYLER FAMILY REUNION

At Boston—Postoffice Changes and Other Interesting News from the National Capital.

Special to the Telegram

Washington, Sept. 14.—Senator McLaurin of South Carolina, is among the distinguished southern statesmen in Washington. He is here on business before the war department, trying to secure commissions for some of his constituents, and also in relation to the matter of the state claims growing out of the Spanish-American war. The senator called at the executive mansion the other day in relation to placing some applications before the president for commissions, and was received very cordially. President McKinley and Senator McLaurin are, as is well known, on very good terms. Personally, notwithstanding the political affiliations of the junior senator from South Carolina. On several occasions the senator has supported the policies of the administration, and moreover he has a very high opinion of the chief executive. The senator stands very well at the white house, and the president usually seems disposed to grant his requests in the matter of state patronage.

Senator McLaurin says that politics in South Carolina just now are not arousing any great interest. The people of the state are naturally interested in the Philippine situation, and hope for a solution of the difficulties as speedily as possible. The senator thinks that congress will be disposed to support the president in his efforts to bring about such termination of the war in the islands, and will grant him all the aid necessary for the purpose.

In regard to state affairs, Senator McLaurin says that business in South Carolina has been very good, and that the farmers as a rule are contented. The senator will likely be in Washington for several days before returning home.

A number of prominent clergymen are in Washington. They are in this country for the purpose of attending the International Congressional Council, which is to be held at Boston from September 20th to 24. Quite a number of the visiting clergymen called at the executive mansion this week to see President McKinley. Among those who called were Rev. Martin Austey, of Dewbury, Yorkshire, England; Rev. Mathias Lansdown, of London; Rev. Francis Lansdown, of Leicester; and Rev. Mr. Esterbrook, of Sumner-ton.

President McKinley received the clergymen very cordially, and made a contribution, it is stated, for a brick in the Sunday school to be built at Ebenezer chapel, Dewbury.

Among those who are here attending the reunion of the Tyler family is Mr. Nat Tyler, of Richmond. Mr. Tyler was formerly a well known newspaper man, and had a wide acquaintance in the southern section of the country. He was at one time the proprietor of the Richmond Equivocal, one of the old time Virginia dailies. Among others in attendance is Mr. John Tyler, a grandson of the former president, who is stopping at the National Hotel. He will be here for several days.

Judge Townsend, private secretary to Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, is in the city. He is here for the purpose of endeavoring to settle up the matter of the state claims growing out of the late war with Spain. Mr. W. Boyd Evans, of South Carolina, is also here, and the two gentlemen will remain for some time. Judge Townsend is of the opinion that the war department will settle these claims which have been pending for a long time. Mr. Evans brought to Washington with him all of the papers relating to the claims.

During the past few days, the adjutant general of South Carolina, Maryland, Virginia, and other states have been in Washington in the interest of the state militia of their several states.

A WITLESS WOMAN ASSAULTED

Horrible Crime at the Poorhouse of Transylvania County.

Asheville, Sept. 13.—About ten days ago several men went to the poorhouse of Transylvania county and entered the room occupied by Brazil Chaplin, a white woman, who is not of strong mind. The men choked her to prevent an outcry, dragged her into the bushes about 200 yards from the house and there compelled her to submit to their wishes. The crime was committed, it is thought, about 10 o'clock p. m. and it was about 3 a. m. when the poor woman reached the almshouse and told her story. She was so seriously injured that she could only make her way by crawling.

The matter was kept quiet in order that the officers might get a clue to the identity of the perpetrators of the devilish deed. The first arrest was made Sunday morning when Tillman Anderson, colored, was taken in custody and jailed at Brevard. Last night Sheriff McGaha telephoned Sheriff Lee, of Buncombe, to arrest John Gaither, colored, as a suspect. Soon afterward Deputy Sheriffs Jones and Weaver found Gaither in Victoria and he was locked-up. He stoutly protested his innocence. This morning Deputy Sheriff Harkins came down from Transylvania and took Gaither to Brevard. The officer says warrants are out for John Stancill, white, and John Gatton, colored, who are suspected of complicity in the crime. Gaston is in Pickens county, S. C.

Deputy Sheriff Harkins says there is considerable excitement in Brevard and that there has been talk among the negroes of lynching the perpetrators of the outrage.—Special to Charlotte Observer.

John Lowlow, the clown, "threw off" on the dispensary in great shape yesterday at the circus. It was noticeable, however, that he received more applause for some other "funny business" than for his "hacks at the dispensary. This, in a large crowd of people at a circus, is significant.

A MARE'S NEST.

Northern papers are doing good deal of space these days to the discussion of the proposed constitutional amendment in regard to negro suffrage in North Carolina. The Tribune of New York, that virulent republican organ, foresees a loss of congressmen, etc., to the "G. O. P." in the law this state is going to adopt next year, and raises its voice in a hint that the representation of the state in congress could be trimmed down by reason of the falling off in our voting population which the amendment will effect.

The Tribune says: "It would be equally fortunate for all sections of the country if schemes to abolish negro suffrage, such as that in contemplation in North Carolina or that in actual operation in Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina, could be brought in the near future to a deliberate and thorough constitutional test. Congress has now undoubted power under the fourteenth amendment to reduce the representation allowed to Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana to correspond with the contraction of the suffrage caused by negro disfranchisement. Should these states and other willing imitators like North Carolina frankly accept such loss of power as the just price of a restricted ballot, friction over election systems and practices in the south would, perhaps, be quickly relieved and dissipated."

It is indeed a poor rule that would work both ways, and the Tribune's proposition is easily answered by the Raleigh News and Observer:

"The power that congress has 'to reduce the representation' is one that cannot be exercised with reference to North Carolina without putting it in operation also in Massachusetts. At an election some six or eight years ago, only 55 per cent. of the voters of Massachusetts exercised, or were allowed to exercise the right of suffrage. That would cut down the electoral vote of Massachusetts from 15 to 7. Is the Tribune ready for that? It sounds very easy to talk about reducing the representation of the southern states. Congress has no power, but must exercise it as to all the states and not a few. The returns show that more than 20 years ago in the south men in New England. How is congress to ascertain how to 'reduce'?"

Here is a reminder from the advertising man of the Philadelphia Record which should prove valuable to those of our merchants who believe that there is a science in the proper manner of laying their war before the public through the medium of the newspaper:

Certain individuals in the larger cities make a paying business of selling bright ideas, expressed either in writing or illustrations, to newspapers and magazines. Because of the intangible nature of the "commodity" they sell, these enterprising persons are known as "ghosts." Their business is, of course, legitimate, and they are often a great help to the advertiser. Yet it is safe to say that bright ideas which would scintillate in an advertisement generate in the mind of an enterprising and experienced merchant each day of his life, and if he have confidence in himself he will not fail to embody them in business announcements to be carried to his patrons through the medium of a widely read newspaper.

There is a very fluctuating condition existing between Great Britain and the Transvaal. Yesterday the war clouds were seemingly gathering again, but today the wind of peace has apparently dissipated them once more. The Boers want to fight and they don't want to fight. They like not John Bull's claim of suzerainty over their dominions, yet the logic of guns convinces them that he has a pretty good title.

Admiral Sampson has retired from sea service and been appointed commandant of the Boston navy yard. Some people think the man who reaped the glory of Schley's great victory at Santiago should have BEEN retired long ago and that he is eminently more qualified to command skeleton ships than the docks than to lead ships in trim to cope with the enemy.

The report yesterday that Dreyfus had been pardoned proved to be only a rumor without foundation. While there is a possibility, and even a probability—but a very remote one—that the unjustly condemned man will be restored to his freedom, such action will be impossible until the council of revision shall have passed upon the appeal which has been taken in his case.

DEATH CAUSED BY HER PET.

Miss Alice Knott Asphyxiated by Her Parrot.

There were things uncanny and unparalleled about the sad death from asphyxiation yesterday of Miss Alice Knott, at 803 Twelfth street northwest. She was killed by a parrot, a little, evil-eyed, green thing, that cannot speak a word or fly a yard, but has learned the malicious trick of turning on gas. Hating the rest of the world with a spite that makes its eyes gleam and its sharp beak spread threateningly at the approach of all but its lake mistress, this parrot followed Miss Knott from floor to floor and from room to room with a constancy and affection remarkable in a bird of its ugly nature.

This parrot turned on the gas in Miss Knott's room early yesterday morning while she lay sleeping, and the young woman was suffocated. She was found dead about 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the bird that had brought its mistress to an untimely end lay half-suffocated at the foot of the door, instinctively seeking the fresh air that reached the death-laden room through that aperture only. Dr. Wade H. Atkinson, of 805 Twelfth street, was called in as soon as Miss Knott's condition was discovered, but he found the young woman quite dead. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, as the unfortunate victim of her pet's evil habits has a sister in Arizona, whose wishes as to the time of the interment will be consulted.—Washington Post.

A Wonderful Cure of Diarrhoea.

A prominent Virginia editor had almost given up, but was brought back to perfect health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Read his editorial. From the Times, Hillsville, Va.

I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU
HIGH POINT, N. C., Sept. 14.

What do you think of the circus?

W. A. Farriss, of Wilmington, spent this morning in the city.

J. L. Sechrest represented High Point in Greensboro yesterday.

Fletcher Barbes and Fred Ingram spent yesterday in the City of Flowers.

Lawyer Wescott Roberson had some "business" to attend to in Greensboro yesterday.

Butter is now one of the scarcest articles of the table in High Point. A good quality is at a premium.

How much red lemonade, striped candy, peanuts pop corn and ginger cakes did you consume yesterday?

H. M. Wright, the gentleman who will open a drugstore in the Groome building, spent yesterday in Greensboro on business.

Some of the colored men who left for Richmond a few days ago to work on a railroad, returned the following morning. They got as far as Danville when a change of mind took place.

D. L. Payne went down to Greensboro yesterday to see the circus. He returned with his pockets full of ground peas, two or three toy balloons and one or two clown books. "Darius" saw the sights.

The water works question is being discussed considerably. Only one month from next Saturday the election will be held. Voters, consider well and have the future welfare of our progressive city at heart when casting your ballot.

The High Point Trunk Company are hustling things since they have received a large shipment of material. They are selling their goods, too—because the class of work they are turning out is among the best. The firm is composed of clever gentlemen and we are glad to know they are meeting with success.

Messrs Ely Brothers, the gentlemen who will open a Business College for the teaching of bookkeeping and penmanship in the opera house next Monday morning, tells us that they have promise of a good attendance at the opening. It will pay you to see these gentlemen if you are thinking of taking either or both of the above specialties.

A lady from the country walked into one of our stores yesterday and examining an article that somewhat resembled a handkerchief, asked the clerk the price, who (mistaking her question thought she asked the name) very cleverly replied "center-piece"—cent a piece. The clerk was placed in quite an embarrassing position when the lady said she would take one hundred! An explanation followed.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back or weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by using Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

The Rice Birds are Here.

The rice fields along the Cape Fear river are now teeming with almost countless thousands of rice-birds, which always make their appearance here at this season when the fields begin to ripen for the harvest. A little unwelcome, but hailed with delight by the sportsmen and many of them have already been bagged and sent into the market, where they are finding ready sale at from 40 to 50 cents per dozen. It is worth one's while to take a trip down the river with Capt. Harper on the steamer Wilmington to witness the undulating swarms of the birds above the heads of the ripening grain.—Wilmington Star.

Draws Boys to Him.

There is something about President Winston that draws boys to him. He took charge of the University and the rolls grew like magic. Now he is at the head of the A. and M. College and the dormitories are not large enough to accommodate the students. The pouring in of students to a school which he conducts is mainly accounted for by his personal qualities of energy and perseverance. To use a common but dispensable word, he is a "hustler," and that is why he succeeds.—Wilmington Dispatch.

At the earnest solicitation of friends I have decided to open a private kindergarten on September 18. Having been in the work for the past six years I assure the public of the most thorough and up to date kindergarten methods.
